Author and former Norwalk resident Tom Kies answers questions from the audience during the AuthorSpeak series at Norwalk Public Library on Wednesday. Kies, an 18-year veteran of the newspaper business, has a new novel, "Random Road" which takes place in the affluent, fictional Gold Coast town of Sheffield, Conn., with reporter Geneva Chase, who covers a murder for her local newspaper. Author Jean Cullander Kranso joined Kies to talk about her new book, "The Train to Skeleton Coast," which centers on Maggie Grayson, a doctoral student at Yale University who discovers a dead body.
